DISCUSS AUTO PARKING

Compliment City on Improved Gas—To Give its Support to Health Department—Other Matters

The regular meeting of Alexandria Citizens' Association was held last night in Pythian Temple, 319 Cameron street. This was the first meeting since adjournment the middle of December.

The committee on repairing sidewalks leading to cemeteries in the northwestern section of the city reported they had the matter up with Southern Railway officials and expected to be in a position to make a report at next meeting.

The association went on record as opposed to restricting parking of automobiles on Alfred and Columbus streets between Prince and Cameron streets, due to the fact that automobiles are not allowed to be parked on King street between Columbus and Alfred streets and citizens attending performances at the Richmond Theatre had to have some place to park cars.

The parking of automoiles on Fairfax street opposite police headquarters at night without lights was called to the attention of the association. It was stated on the night of December 8th at 8 p. m., 12 automobiles were standing in front of the garage with lights on only 2 and motor police passed at the time and paid no attention to same.

The question of assigning mounted police to outlying territory as required in annexation proceedings was discussed and referred. The price for installing electric meters was brought to the attention of the association, one member claiming he was required to deposit $53 for a meter due to the fact that the company stated that the pole was on the wrong side of his house, committee on light was instructed to handle this matter with light committee of the council and report at next meeting.

Committee on health departments made a very lengthy report, including a detailed report from that department, and urged that this department be given the entire support of members of this association.

Committee on gas reported that most wonderful improvement had been made in gas supply and desired to compliment the new superintendent and committee on light of council.

Committee of streets reported the condition of sidewalks in residential sections of the city and urged that the steps be taken, with an effort in view of improving same, same was referred to special committee with instruction to handle with property owners of sidewalks in question and ask them to have same repaired.

It was the opinion of the association that disks recently installed at intersections of streets, should be painted white.

Committee on weights and measures reported that scales were being inspected throughout the city by the recently appointed inspector. They

LIQUOR PROPOSED ON AMERICAN SHIPS

The House Judiciary Committee, of which Andrew J. Volstead, of dry law fame is chairman, will begin consideration a week from today of an amendment to the prohibition enforcement law permitting the sale of liquor on American ships. The sponsor of the proposed amendment is George W. Edmonds, of Philadelphia.

Edmonds expressed the opinion yesterday that prohibition of the sale of liquor on American vessels placed them at undue disadvantage if competing with foreign ships. He pointed out that American vessels carrying passengers cannot fully comply with the laws of Italy and other countries which determine the nature of the food to be served emgirants leaving their countries.

"Persons contemplating ocean voyages are neglecting American ships because of the restrictions imposed by the law and the American lines are finding that they cannot connete with their foreign opponents," said Edmonds.

Post at Which Virginians Were Trained for World War to be Abandoned—Cost About $20,000,000

Camp Lee, which cost more than any other military camp established during the world war, trained more men than any other and sent more overseas, will be abandoned and scrapped by the War Department, according to official announcement received here last night. Despite all of the efforts of Petersburg business interests, which sent a committee to Washington last week to fight for retention of the camp, the War Department decided against its continuance and has ordered the buildings salvaged and the land held until some order of disposition of its is made.

More than $1,500,000 has been expended on the camp since the armistice and about $18,000,000 was invested during the war in buildings and equipment, concrete roads, railway tracks, sewerage, barracks and street car facilities. The land on

$500,000 TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION REFUSED

Graft, Murder and Extortion Linked With Liquor "Scandal"

DEMAND FOR INQUIRY

Joint Resolution Also Asks Investigation of "Self-Constituted" Bodies Like Anti-Saloon League.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Prohibition, its enforcement and its problems came to the front in Congress yesterday. The House adjourned last night with an amendment to the Sundry Civil bill under consideration, which would give the Department of Justice $200,000 to prosecute violators. The amendment is expected to come up tomorrow morning. It was brought forward directly after defeat of an amendment offered by Congressman Blanton, of Texas, proposing $500,000 for the task.

Early yesterday Congressman Lester D. Volk, of Brooklyn, a baby member of Congress, who was recently sworn in introduced a joint resolution scoring "self-constituted private agencies" that "have assumed to dictate the methods of enforcement and government departments charged with the responsibility of carrying out the provisions of the Prohibition law," and "have become involved in accusations of graft and murder." The resolution demanded appointment of a Congressional Committee of Nine to make a country-wide investigation. "Enforcement of the Prohibition amendment has been carried on in such manner as to become a public scandal and a subject for condemnation," declares the preamble to his resolution. It has been referred to the Committee on Rules

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, in a pithy statement issued as a consequence of this resolution, which courts an investigation of his organization, demanded an inquiry into activities of the "liquor interests."

A third development in the situation yesterday had to do with application of the Volstead act to the passenger ships of the American Merchant Marine. At the request of Congressman George W. Edmonds, of Philadelphia, the Judiciary Committee of which Congressman A. J. Volstead is chairman has fixed Thursday, January 13 for a hearing at which passenger steamship operators will argue for the passage of the Edmonds bill which would amend

MISTAKES

The American people knew how to profit from mistakes. They have gone out of their way to commit error; they have swum rivers to find a thing which they did not want. But this has been experience, the only thing which teaches us mortals, after all has been said.

It was a mistake to have the war of 1812, but we accepted its humiliations and made a peace time got us nothing for which we fought. It was a good lesson, all the same. Our public land system has been a mistake, but we had to learn it for ourselves by experience. So with out merchant marine, financial and road policies and with many other economical problems. In 1908, Hon. C. C. Carlin, a Virginia Congressman offered a bill appropriating $50,000 to begin the development of aeronautics. It brought down upon his head the ridicule and criticism of the talent in the state, and when these shall be magazines and make the butt of innumerable jokes and quips. One picture had him sailing over the Capitol in an "air castle" to avoid the importunities of his numby constituents; and another accused him of wanting the government to furnish him with air transportation from his home to Washington.

Prof. Langley, of the Smithsonian Institute, built an airplane about the same time and made an unsuccessful attempt to "fly" it. He asked Congress for $3,500 (about the mileage of a California Congressmen) to enable him to perfect this modest attempt to develop the airship. It was cruel the way his proposal was received. He was so humiliated by the comments of the treasury that he gave up and stored his machine in the Smithsonian Institute as a curiosity and later, died. The Congress offered a reward of $50,000 for anyone who could fly in a heavier than-air machine. The Wrights won the prize. Then came the big war in Europe and Congress woke up. Someone got out Prof. Langley's machine, tightened up the bolts, and attached a motor and flew in it over the city of Washington, circling the cathedral in which was sitting the Congress that had jeered Carlin and humiliated Langley.

Holland, who invented the submarine, offered it to the United States, but it was "new" and "impractical" and we refused to be interested. He offered it to Germany and that country accepted it. How that submarine did make England, France and the United States pay for our shortsightedness! But we have the "experience" now; and while there is no way to apologize to Carlin, Langley and Holland, we ought to see that it is very unsafe and altogether unwise to condemn a thing because it is new. "Cranks" and "visionaries" have made most of the progress in industry. As a rule, the people of the United States at first run headlong into a fake or turn a deaf ear to merit. But they are not dogredly stubborn. They merely want to have their own experience. It is like eating a fresh, ripe watermelon in July, under the shade of a maple, with one's best girl fanning him, to observe the way the people get right when they have had their experience.—The Charleston W. Va., Gazette.

Opening Lecture

Seventy-Four Hear Dr. F. W. Collier Tuesday Night

The teacher training class of the Y. M. C. A. and the Alexandria Sunday School Association got away to a good start Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the M. E. Church South, with Dr. F. W. Collier of the American University, in charge.

Seventy four students presented themselves for the opening lecture and as many were unable to attend the first session, it is presumed that the number will practically reach a hundred by the next meeting night, Tuesday evening January 11.

Warner L. Moody, president of the Alexandria Sunday School Association, was in the chair and asked for the representatives of the various Sunday schools to rise and be counted and it was found that all but two of the Sunday schools of the city were represented by from two to twenty-four students.

Mr. Moody introduced Dr. Collier and he at once won his audience with his pleasing manner and evident grasp of his subject. Mr. Moody expressed himself as being highly pleased with the start and predicts an unusually successful class with splendid results accruing to all of the schools of the city. The class will meet each Tuesday evening for ten consecutive weeks at the same place.

LEAGUE ENVOY TO HARDING'S PLAN

Intermediary May Visit New Executive Following Inauguration

FATE OF TREATY IS UP

Senator King Introduces Resolution Calling Covenant—From Pact and Ratification of Amended Treaty.

Paris, Jan. 6.—Informal members of the Council of the League of Nations have been talking informally among themselves on the advisability of sending a special intermediary or envoy to Mr. Harding immediately after his inauguration as President of the United States to present the case of the League of Nations and to urge upon him the difficulties which European countries would experience in abandoning the present League and setting up a new form of association of nations.

The principal grounds for this contention are that the League covenant is a part of the peace treaty which gives the League administration over the Saare Valley, the Danzig region and a number of mandates and protectorates. The view is held among members of the French ministry that the stability of the treaty itself would be shaken if the League part of it were shattered.

This had led to a growing sentiment among the principal Allied powers that the League should be kept going in some form, but not necessarily as now constituted, the advisability of revision of the covenant being quite generally recognized. It is considered here that an understanding on the future form of the League could be more readily reached if a representative of the League Council were able to discuss the subject directly with Mr. Harding when he becomes President.

Confidence is expressed here that if direct legislation would eliminate all that is objectionable in the United States the President-elect would not hesitate on the abandonment of the organization already at work, which is held to be bound up with so many important European interests.

Washington, Jan. 6.—Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, introduced a resolution for his resolution providing simply

TO LIMIT MEMBERSHIP

O. D. Boat Club to Have Maximum of 200—151 Active Members On Roster

At a meeting of the Old Dominion Boat Club held last night the needs of the club in the way of an increase in space to house canoes, etc., was generally discussed and Capt. J. S. Deuchis was appointed to ascertain the approximate cost of an addition to the building, which would give storage room for about forty more canoes.

It was decided to limit the membership of the club to two hundred active members. When this number is attained any other applications will be placed on a waiting list to be used when vacancies occur. The growth of the club has been very remarkable the past year, the active members number one hundred and fifty-one (151) at the present time and there are a large number of applications to be considered at the annual meeting in April.

Samuel E. Cohen, 418 King street, was admitted to membership at this meeting.

A certain amount was set aside each month to form a fund to equip the club room with pictures and J. W. McDonough was added to the committee on pictures. The committee now consists of the following members:

C. Fletcher Dyson, C. M. Shreve, Harold V. Quigley, J. W. McDonough.

An announcement was made by the entertainment committee that the next special smoker would be held in March and that this would be made the largest and the best ever held by the club.

ALEXANDRIA AND THE MARDI GRAS IN WASHINGTON

It is proposed by the citizens of Washington to celebrate the inauguration by instituting Mardi Gras festivities similar to those that have been in vogue in New Orleans annually for over half a century. That this will result in drawing large crowds to that city is evident. Some of our own citizens suggest that it would be eminently proper for Alexandria to be represented by an appropriate float in the parade. We believe that if the Chamber of Commerce were to take this up immediately, invite the assistance of the Daughters of the Revolution, and combine the artistic talent of the city, a striking float could be designed that would advertise Alexandria to the thousands of visitors in a way that would everlastingly fix the city in their memories. The historic associations of this city are unique. The old colonial and revolutionary periods, in which Alexandria took no secondary part, could be illustrated by appropriate costume and equipment, and impersonated by a number of our charming and beautiful young ladies and our handsome and gallant beaux, and thus add to the gayety and brilliancy of the occasion. We suggest that the Chamber of Commerce appoint a committee at once to take the matter up with the Daughters of the Revolution and such others as could render assistance, and get in touch with the proper committee in Washington, and secure a place in the parade. We are assured that an auto-truck can be had free of charge for the occasion.

ANCIENT DAYS ON THE GAZETTE. One of our oldest subscribers, now past the biblical three-score-and-ten allotted to man, happened in the office the other day, and being in a reminiscent mood, regaled the sanctum with many an anecdote of olden times in Alexandria, and particularly of the GAZETTE. "Especially do I recall" said he, "the GAZETTE'S editors of earlier days. Some of them were scholars of deep and varied learning. They embellished their editorials with many a latin phrase from the classics, and their leaders often took the form of polished essays." Here he sighed, paused a moment, and then went on: "But at that time most every young gentleman had gone through his Latin and Greek drill in boyhood, and but few of us did not know his Virgil, his Horace and his Ovid. Alas! tempora mutantur, et nos in illis mutamur." Then, turning suddenly, with a twinkle in his eye, he asked: "Could you not do a favor for an old man, and write a little editorial with a good, stiff, Latin quotation for old times' sake, and let him see it once more in his GAZETTE?" So we have written this, and bring it to a close with a quotation from Ovid, a counsel of wisdom which our venerable friend has followed all his clean and admirable life:

"Vive sine invidia; mollosque inglorius annos exige, et amicitias tibi junge pares."

MOTHER WALKS 2 MILES FOR EVERY MEAL SHE COOKS

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 6.—Preparation of meals for an average family means a two mile daily kitchen marathon for the housewife, statistics compiled for the Conference of Vocational Workers of the South, in session here, disclose.

The papers state the club is organized "for the educational and social benefit of its members."

Brenner stated that there are about 300 members of the club at present. Remarriage of any of the members eliminates them from membership.

7- CENT FARE CUTS TRAFFIC ON PHILADELPHIA CARS

Philadelphia, Jan. 6.—The total number of riders on Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company cars last month, with the seven cent fare in effect, was 3,500,000 less than the number in December, 1919, at the five cent rate, according to W. C. Dunbar, vice president of the company.

Mr. Dunbar also says that the sale of tickets at four for a quarter made the company's revenue last month exceed that of December, 1919, by $657,589.

The record of diminishing riders, according to Mr. Dunbar bears out the prediction of Thomas E. Mitten, President of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company, who said a fare higher than a "basic five cent rate" would cut down the number of profitable short riders.

SECOND FIRE AT CAMP LEE IN 3 DAYS BURNS HAY SHED

"How about these fellows who are making real beer," the judge demanded. "The brewers should be brought into court. I want to know if beer is being made in Chicago. Where is all this four per cent. stuff coming from?"

Dying Woman's Cry, "Read The Bible" Gives Man Clue to Parents

Charleston, S. C., Jan. 6.—Through a deathbed disclosure by the woman who reared him, Robert Hayes, of Neequehuming, Pa., a World War veteran, has learned that he was kidnapped from Wrightsville Beach, N. C., 25 years ago, and that his real name is Harry Teboe and his home is in this city.

Teboe served with the Second Division in France and was severely wounded. When he recovered and returned to this country, he found that the woman who raised him was dying. She tried to tell him about his kidnapping, but had not the strength. All she could say was "read the bible." Teboe examined the family bible and there found a record disclosing that he had been kidnapped at the age of seven while visiting his sister, Mrs. J. E. Turner, at Wrightsville Beach, and taken to Pennsylvania, where he was reared under the name of Robert Hayes.

The record in the bible lacked Teboe's real name and that of his family and their residence, but at about that time his sister advertised the circumstances of the kidnapping in a magazine which Teboe read.

Fasts for 38 Days To Convert Husband; Has Lost No Flesh

Danville, Ill., Jan. 6.—Still refusing to take food because her husband "has no religion," Mrs. Ernest S. Harrington yesterday entered the 38th day of her fast. She allowed a physician to examine her, but refused medicines.

She insisted God has told her to fast and pray, and repeated she was determined to force her husband into the church.

"I will continue fasting and praying until God grants my prayer," she said yesterday. "The Lord talked to me on May 15 and told me to do this, for while my husband is not a bad man he has no religion and He said this would be the means of converting him."

The physician who examined the woman said he found her pulse and temperature normal. He also said she had not lost flesh.

BLAMES WADE FOR HUSBAND'S KILLING

Bridgeport, Conn., Jan 6.—State Attorney Homer S. Cummings yesterday rested the prosecution's case against Elwood B. Wade, on trial here for the alleged murder of George B. Nott, and Attorney Fred B. Morgan, counsel for the defense, said that members of the Wade family would be the first witnesses called by the defense today.

The testimony of Mrs. Ethel Mildred Nott, widow of the murder victim, and of John E. Johnston, also indicted for the alleged murder of Nott, but still awaiting trial, was the feature of yesterday's session.

Mrs. Nott broke down only once during her story and recovered without leaving the stand. She accepted no responsibility whatever for the death of her husband, and pictured Wade as the sole aggressor in the tragedy.

Johnston testified he and Wade had been lying in wait for Nott every night for a week before the murder, and that Mrs. Nott knew of this and was expecting them at her home on the morning when the murder was committed.

A written confession signed by Wade in the presence of police officers was admitted as evidence yesterday. It asserted that Nott had been killed in self-defense by Mrs. Nott before Wade arrived at the Nott home on the morning of the tragedy.

George Williams, a jailer of Brooklyn, N. Y., was ejected from the court room after he threw the spectators' gallery into a panic when he drew a fake pistol and threatened several persons.

SCRAPPING OF CAMP LEE

which the camp is built cost the government $1,200,000.

The Eightieth Division consisting almost entirely of Virginia troops, with some Pennsylvanians, were trained at the camp, which, after their departure, was used as an assembling depot. Troops marched from there overland to City Point, where there took boat. The Twenty-seventh Division, composed of Ohio national guardsmen, trained at Camp Lee. The camp, because of its excellent location near the coast and the good climate of Virginia, was considered the most admirably fitted of any camp in the United States for its work.

Governor Westmoreland Davis recently protested to the Secretary of War against the proposed scrapping of the camp, and also wrote the Virginia Congressmen to solicit their aid in saving the camp as a permanent military post.

The camp is four miles from Petersburg and was only erected in 1[illegible]

JAPANESE FEAR ATTACK

Troops at Nikolsk, in Siberia, Place Town in State of Defense

Harbin, Jan. 6.—The Japanese are hastily digging trenches and erecting barbed wire entanglements at Nikolsk where serious events are momentarily expected. Reports from Khabarovsk state that Red Regulars are arriving daily and are preparing for a campaign. At the same time Bolshevist orators are haranguing the natives, pointing out the necessity of driving the Japanese from Siberia where their presence is described as dangerous to the Russian poletariat.

At Grodeov Reds who attempted to stir up an anti-religious outbreak were saved from a mob bent on their destruction by the quick work of soldiers from the Moderate garrison.

The Bolshaviki are actively carrying on propaganda in Harbin, despite Chinese opposition though the coolies apparently approve of the attempts to incite revolt. Many incendiary fires here are attributed to Soviet agents.

SEES PROSPERITY IN 1921 FOR OPPORTUNITY SEIZERS

Chicago, Jan. 6.—That 1921 will bring prosperity to all with the willingness and ability to take advantage of its opportunities was the prediction of Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Company of New York, in a speech before the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday

"It rests with us," Mr. Mitchell said in commenting on the possibilities of prosperity. "the manufacturers, the merchants, the bankers, the laborers of the United States to determine how soon this prosperity can be brought about. Deflation must become equalized and that industry, that trade, that class labor that refuses to take its share of the burden of the deflation is temporarily retarding early recovery."

As to how far deflation would go in 1921 he would make no prediction, but he asked his hearers to consider the farmers, whose products have declined 30 to 50 per cent, as refusing to purchase implements, whose prices remain unchanged; to consider the laborer and his attitude toward a reduced wage in the making of steel or farm implements so long as he finds clothing, food and rents and other necessary living expenses, not commensurately reduced.

$500,000 TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION REFUSED

the enforcement to permit the sale of liquor on board American ships.

The report of the Appropriations Committee on the Legislative, Judicial and Executive Appropriations bill which carries the item of $7,500,000 for enforcement of prohibition and anti-narcotic laws, is expected tomorrow. It is understood that only $5,500,000 will be authorized for next year. This would only give the same amount for the enforcement of prohibition as was appropriated for the current fiscal year.

It was Congressman Volstead who introduced the first amendment to the Sundry Civil bill last night to aid Attorney General Palmer in the prosecution of the Enforcement law. The committee had declined to recommend an appropriation of $500,000 asked by Mr. Palmer so that he could employ additional Assistant United States District Attorneys. It made a blanket appropriation of $600,000 for hiring special assistants to the Attorney General and United States District Attorneys instead.

Mr. Volstead moved an amendment that would set aside $200,000 of this money for the prosecution of liquor violations. The irrepressible Congressman Blanton moved a further amendment that this sum be increased to $500,000 which would have given Mr. Palmer what he wanted. Chairman Good explained that the bill carried other moneys which could be used by the Attorney General for enforcement of prohibition, and Mr. Blanton started to withdraw his amendment. Congressman Gallivan, of Massachusetts, objected and the matter went to a vote It lost, 63 to 12.

Before consideration of Mr. Volstead's amendment could be taken up, Mr. Gallivan, raising a point of no quorum, forced an adjournment

SEVEN DIE IN RED OUTBREAK IN BERLIN

Berlin, Jan. 6.—Seven persons were killed and twenty-three were wounded in a Communist demonstration at Flensburg, following the funeral of the Communist leader, Hoffman, who was killed a few days ago while escaping from the police.

Attempts to disperse a mob by means of a fire hose when the mob was storming the police barracks were unsuccessful. The rioters broke down the gates and the police were forced to fire into the mob. Forty arrests were made.

Many arrests were also made at Hirschfield, near Halle, where a mob of farmers, armed with flails and hunting rifles, attacked the government's grain commission. There were no casualties.

PHONE LINE TO CUBA

Washington, Jan. 6.—Direct telephone communication between the United States and Cuba is to be provided by the Cuban-American Telephone and Telegraph Company, a permit for the landing of three telephone cables from Havana at Key West, Fla., having been granted the company yesterday by the State Department.

Laying of the cables is expected to be completed in the spring, representatives of the company here yesterday said. They will be approximately 100 miles in length, or longer than any submarine teelphone cables yet laid.

HARRISON MEMORIAL URGED

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 6.—The tomb of President William Henry Harrison at North Bend, in Hamilton county near Cincinnati, "is far from a fitting last resting place of so great an American," according to a report made to Governor Cox yesterday by the William Henry Harrison Memorial Commission, appointed by the Governor to direct the work of taking over and improving the burial property.

The commission reported that the tomb and property both are in excellent condition now, but the hope is expressed in the report "that the near future may bring forth on the part of both State and citizenship a decided effort to erect upon this most beautiful site a fitting monument for Ohio's first President and most gallant soldier."

DISARMING JOB FOR BRITAIN AND U. S., SAYS OKUMA

PULLMAN CONDUCTORS ASK MINIMUM SCALE

Chicago, Jan. 5.—Demands for increased wages were presented to the United States Railroad Labor Board here yesterday by representatives of Pullman car conductors.

The workers ask a minimum wage of $200 a month for the first year of employment and $225 the second year. They also ask for a 240-hour working month.

O'CALLAGHAN, HERE MINUS PASSPORT, FACES U. S. BAN

Washington, Jan. 6.—Unless Daniel O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News as a stowaway accompanied by Peter Mac Swiney, is able to establish that he is a political refugee, he is in imminent danger of being deported by the State Department, it was learned yesterday.

"This case is full of dynamite. The entire question of the value of a passport is involved. On its face it would appear that deportation is demanded," said one high official.

It is regarded more than likely also that Great Britain will demand extradition, even going to the extent of making a technical charge against O'Callaghan. This government, however, will demand complete proof that a crime has been committed before it will permit his extradition.

COUNTY'S COLD EPIDEMIC LAID TO FRESH PORK

Mellwood, Md., Jan. 6.—The epidemic of colds in Prince Georges County is due to too much fresh pork.

That's what the home economics committee of the Mellwood Woman's Club has reported after an investigation.

Harvest hog killings have resulted in a menu of fresh pork on farmer's tables three times a day, with a late evening lunch to boot, the women say.

The committee recommends that victims of colds drink plenty of warm lemonade and orangeade.

Some of the farmers are said to have more effective remedies in their cellars, however, since the cider apple crop was good this year.

DRINK HOME BREW; THEN BREAK UP PRAYER MEETING

Hancock, Md., Jan. 6.—Warrants have been sworn out at McConnellsburg, across the Mason and Dixon line from here, for eighteen young men, who, while celebrating on New Year's Eve, are charged with breaking up a watch night religious service held in May's Chapel in the mountain near McConnellsburg.

The young men it is claimed, had been drinking home brew and were bilarious. Three of them have been arrested while search is being made for the others. Several of the men live on this side of the line.

Widow of Bomb Case Suspect Sues Palmer and Four Others

New York, Jan. 6.—The Italian chamber of labor announced yesterday that a $100,000 damage suit would be filed here in the State supreme court against Attorney General Palmer and four other officials of the Department of Justice in connection with the death of Andrea Salsedo, who jumped fourteen stories to his death last May while detained at department headquarters here in connection with the bomb outrages of June, 1919.

The suit, brought by Salsedo's widow, named also William J. Flynn, chief of the department's bureau of investigation. It was charged Salsedo had been beaten "terribly" and "tortured mentally and physically," had lost his mind and become suicidally despondent. The chamber announced copies of the charges had been sent to the Italian embassy in Washinton and consultates at Boston and New York.

16 FALL IN AMBUSH; HOUSES DESTROYED

London, Jan. 6.—Five houses in Meelin, Ireland, were destroyed yesterday by a military order, according to a Dublin dispatch to the Central News. It was at this place that soldiers were ambushed by a large party of civilians.

Sixteen members of the party that waylaid the detachment of troops at Meelin, northwest County Cork, Ireland, were killed by the soldiers attacked and the remainder of the ambushing party were captured with all their guns and ammunition, says a Dublin dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company yesterday. None of the troops was injured.

This is the first time, it is declared that an ambush on a large scale has been effectually beaten.

The ambush, according to the Evening News dispatch from Cork, occurred in a secluded roadway outside the village of Meelin, near Kanturk. Three military lorries, says the account, were coming from Mallow when a bomb was thrown at the leading vehicle. The bomb missed its mark. Revolver fire was then opened on the lorries, which halted while the troops poured rifle fire into both sides of the road.

Aided by a smoke screen continues the account, the troops made a sortie and rounded up all the attacking party, killing sixteen of them and capturing the remainder with all their guns, rifles, and ammunition.

Many bad cases of kidney trouble result from a cold or chill. Congested kidneys fall behind in filtering the poison-laden blood and backache, headache, dizziness and disordered kidney action follow. Don't neglect a cold. Use Doan's Kidney Pills at the first sign of kidney trouble. Follow this Alexandria resident's example:

C. E. Davis, fireman, truck and engine company No. 1, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for a good many years and they have always given me wonderful relief. My trouble has been brought on by being out in all kinds of weather and catching colds which settle in my kidneys. Then my back gets sore and weak and I can hardly get around. The kidney secretions will pass irregularly and make me get up often at night. However I find I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills to give me the desired relief. My kidneys have never been in bad condition since I started using Doan's Kidney Pills for those attacks."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Davis had. Foster Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must keep your body free from poisonous wastes. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effect. Take one nightly and note results. They start the bile and overcome constipation. That's why millions of boxes are sold annually. 15c and 30c

There's A Reason Eor Everything. CORBY BREAD is A--favorite---but not by accident. There is a real reason underlying its immense popularity. It is a scientific reason; or rather, the result of scientific principles practically applied.

Analyze Corby Bread and you will find that it contains the maximum of nutrition. Look for the reason---and you'll find it is due to the patented dough-mixing process employed. Without these machines it is absolutely impossible to develop All the gluten strength of the flour. Which is one reason why Corby Bread contains most nourishment.

Another reason, and a very important factor----is the immense quantity of milk used in the Corby formulas. That adds its wealth of nutrients.

Corby Bread consequently is popular because it satisfies—and it satisfies because it provides the most nourishment, combined with absolute purity.

Give the kiddies the bread that you know is richest in nutrition.

Pure as Mother Made It.

2 GERMANS TO AID DU PONT DYE WORKS

New York, Jan. 6.—The immigration authorities at Ellis Island admitted two German chemists yesterday, whom they had held several days to investigate their assertions that they were dye experts engaged by the du Pont Company at salaries of more than $25,000 a year each. Major George Sylvester, head of the du Pont police and ex-police chief in Washington, appeared before the Board of Inquiry for the du Pont Company and verified the assertions of the two Germans.

Germany opposed the entrance of the two chemists to this country and they submitted to examination by the Vice Consul General of the Netherlands Government here, who represent the German Government. The aliens said they were not bringing in any written formulas for the making of dyes.

BOOTLEGGERS HIT FOR $250,000 IN GOTHAM'S GREATEST LIQUOR RAID

New York, Jan. 6.—The biggest liquor raid in this city since the Volstead act went into effect was made here yesterday when $250,000 worth was seized by Federal agents at the wholesale establishment of Singer Bros., on lower Third Avenue.

Scores of cases of highest quality champagne and imported wines, with hundreds of cases of bonded whisky constituted the stock seized by the raiders.

Joseph Walsh, a driver, and Moe Herman, a clerk employed by Singer Bros., were arrested. Walsh was charged with violation of the transportation provisions of the Volstead act and Herman was taken in connection with alleged changes in office records of liquor receipts.

No charges were made against Louis and Joseph Singer, members of the firm of Singer Bros. The firm according to enforcement agents, had a permit to transport liquor, but Walsh is alleged to have made deliveries without authorization.
